The Capital Area Food Bank, founded in 1980, feeds hope through access to nutritious food; nourishes change through education, skill-building and advocacy; and creates sustainability through community outreach and training. This year, the CAFB is distributing 30 million pounds of food, including 15 million pounds of fresh produce, to more than 700 partner agencies located in the Washington metro area: Prince George's and Montgomery counties in Maryland; Washington, DC.; and Northern Virginia where there is a second CAFB distribution center.
