The Capital Area Food Bank's Community Marketplace is open to all D.C. residents who qualify for low-income assistance.

Fresh, seasonal produce items will be available at each Marketplace as well as recipes for healthy and affordable meals. Community service providers will be on site to provide helpful information about services available to you.

For information about the Marketplace schedule or for notice of cancellation due to inclement weather, please call the information line at (202) 769-5612.
